

A Poem about Hawaii

As I watch the palm trees dancing on the beach I wonder why the world is such a beautiful place When heaven is just around the corner The answer my friend is celebrating life

The hawaiian ladies hulaing in the wind The hawaiian gentlemen cracking coconuts And the king and queen in heaven Smiling on their people surfing waters

The fish in the ocean kissing the corals And the flowers perfuming the air They paint a beautiful state
